

Connecticut Director & Senior Policy Advocate

Job Posting

Posting Period: Dec. 4, 2017 through Jan. 19, 2018

Acadia Center, a non-profit, research and advocacy organization committed to advancing the clean energy future, is seeking a Connecticut Director & Senior Policy Advocate to join its team working on climate and energy. Acadia Center works to develop a clean energy economy by offering real-world solutions to the climate crisis.

Position

The Connecticut Director & Senior Policy Advocate will have a lead role in Connecticut in advancing Acadia Center's efforts to promote and implement energy and climate policy reforms. Specifically, the position will focus on clean energy, utility and power grid policy reforms, energy efficiency, and climate change solutions. The position will center on Acadia Center's Connecticut activities, including in legislative and regulatory proceedings and other state policy forums; working with partner organizations and building coalitions; drafting public comments, educational documents and regulatory filings; advancing state sustainable energy and climate goals; and strategic program planning and coordination with appropriate Acadia Center teams. The position is based in Acadia Center's Hartford office and reports to the Advocacy Director.

The successful candidate will have a demonstrated interest in energy and environmental issues and ideally be familiar with energy policy and utility regulation. Strong analytical skills and a comfort level with data analysis/interpretation are important in our work. Candidates must demonstrate a facility with network-building, public speaking, advocacy, expository writing, and must be comfortable working cooperatively in a team structure while handling independent assignments. In addition, candidates should be able to work with diverse constituencies to advance policy goals in legislative, regulatory, and advisory settings and be able to assert the organization's goals in a professional and competent manner. Acadia Center strives to maintain a professional, collegial and fun work environment. Five years of relevant experience in sustainable energy, regulatory, environmental, or climate issues, is preferred. A J.D. or advanced degree is preferred, but other relevant experience will be equally considered.

Qualifications

- Excellent verbal and written communications skills, with the ability to present information concisely and effectively to critical decisionmakers and the public
- Excellent interpersonal skills
- Demonstrated capacity to build effective alliances to advance shared goals
- Commitment and enthusiasm for sustainable energy and climate progress
- Ability to organize and prioritize multiple projects, and seek direction when needed
- Self-motivated with ability to work independently and with teams
- 5 years of relevant work experience
- J.D. or Master's degree preferred but relevant experience will be equally considered
- Microsoft Office Suite (Word, Excel and PowerPoint) and Prezi familiarity helpful
